11 UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
12 WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
13 AT SEATTLE

15 DENNIS LEE MONTGOMERY, et al.

16 v.
17 Plaintiffs,

SOMA FINANCIAL
18 CORPORATION, et al.,
19

Defendants.

CASE NO. C13-360 RAJ

ORDER

This matter comes before the court on a motion to dismiss by defendants Bank of America, N.A., as successor by merger to Countrywide Bank, FSB and BAC Home Loans Servicing, LP, Countrywide Home Loans, Inc., and Bank of America Corporation<sup>1</sup> for itself and as successor by merger to Countrywide Financial Corporation (collectively, “defendants”). Dkt. # 15 at 2 n.3.<sup>2</sup> Plaintiffs’ amended complaint alleges claims for violation of the Consumer Protection Act (“CPA”) with respect to loan servicing, loan

25 <sup>1</sup> The Bank of America defendants will be referred to as “BoA.”

26 <sup>2</sup> It appears to the court that any decision as to Bank of America applies equally to 27 Countrywide Bank FSB, BAC Home Loans Servicing LP, and Countrywide Financial Corporation. The court also notes that NV Mortgage Inc. has not appeared.

1 modification, foreclosure processing, and loan origination, violation of the False Claims 2 Act (“FCA”), violation of the Financial Institutions Reform Recovery and Enforcement 3 Act (“FIRREA”), violation of the Racketeer Corrupt and Influenced Organizations Act
 4 (“RICO”), and tortious infliction of emotional distress. Dkt. # 4. Plaintiffs’ amended 5 complaint is largely devoid of factual allegations specific to plaintiffs Dennis and Brenda 6 Montgomery (the “Montgomerys”) or Michael Flynn, contains numerous legal 7 conclusions and conclusory allegations, and goes on at length regarding the allegedly 8 improper practices of the mortgage industry in general. Indeed, the language in the 9 complaint is remarkably similar, and, at times, largely identical, to the complaint filed in 10 United States v. Bank of America Corp., Case No. 12-361-RMC in the District of 11 Columbia, Dkt. # 1. According to the complaint and documents subject to judicial 12 notice,<sup>3</sup> plaintiffs allege the following:

13       (1) On September 5, 2006, the Montgomerys obtained a $2.28 million loan to 14 purchase their Yarrow Point property that was secured by a deed of trust naming Chicago 15 Title as Trustee and Mortgage Electronic Registration Systems, Inc. (“MERS”) as the 16 _____

17       <sup>3</sup> On a Rule 12(b)(6) motion, the court may consider documents that are referenced in the 18 complaint, form the basis of plaintiffs’ claim, or are subject to judicial notice. United States v.
Ritchie, 342 F.3d 903, 908-09 (9th Cir. 2003); Fed. R. Evid. 201. Here, these documents include 19 the quit claim deed, the deed of trust, assignment of the deed of trust, the fact that a Summary of Schedules was filed in the United States Bankruptcy Court, Central District of California, and the 20 fact that various entities in the mortgage industry entered into consent decrees. The factual 21 assertions contained in court filings are only subject to judicial notice if they are a matter of public record and they are not reasonably subject to dispute. Fed. R. Evid. 201(b). Plaintiffs do 22 not dispute the factual assertions contained in the Summary of Schedules that was filed in the 23 public record of the Bankruptcy Court. Accordingly, the court also takes judicial notice of the 24 factual content contained therein. With respect to the consent decrees, defendants argue that 25 plaintiffs have failed to allege that any of the facts asserted in the consent judgment applies to 26 plaintiffs in this case. The court agrees. Accordingly, the court does not take judicial notice of 27 the factual assertions therein as applying to plaintiffs. Finally, the court declines to take judicial notice of the HAMP eligibility requirements. Although plaintiffs’ complaint alleges improper denial of loan modification and cites to the Home Affordable Handbook, defendants have not demonstrated that the HAMP eligibility requirements are the loan modification programs referred to in plaintiffs’ complaint.

1 nominal beneficiary for the lender SOMA Financial. Dkt. # 4 (Am. Compl.) ¶ 2.1; Dkt. # 2 16-1 at 1-3 (Ex. A to McCormick Decl.).

3       (2) The Countrywide defendants merged into BoA, and ceased to exist. Dkt. # 4 4 (Am. Compl.) ¶¶ 2.4- 2.6. BoA is the successor in interest to the Montgomerys' loan 5 and its current servicer. Id.

6       (3) On June 26, 2009, the Montgomerys filed a petition for bankruptcy under 7 Chapter 7. Id. ¶ 2.1. The Montgomerys' claims are limited to conduct that occurred after 8 the filing of the petition. Id.

9       (4) With respect to their claim for violation of the CPA in loan servicing, 10 Plaintiffs allege that defendants (a) failed to timely and accurately apply payments made 11 and failed to maintain accurate account statements; (b) charged excessive or improper 12 fees for default-related services; (c) failed to properly oversee third-party vendors 13 involved in servicing activities on behalf of defendants; (d) imposed force-placed 14 insurance without properly notifying the Montgomerys and when they already had 15 coverage; (e) provided the Montgomerys false or misleading information in response to 16 their complaints; and (f) failed to maintain appropriate staffing, training, and quality 17 control systems. Id. ¶ 5.5.

18       (5) With respect to plaintiffs' claim for a violation of the CPA regarding loan 19 modification, plaintiffs allege that defendants (a) represented to the Montgomerys that 20 their loan documents were lost and could not be given to them, and that those 21 representations were false; (b) presented an inapplicable loan modification program they 22 claimed would only remove interest and penalties, which was false because the 23 Montgomerys were entitled to a full reduction of all principal and interest "because of 24 systemic frauds involved in their Loan"; (c) failed to perform proper loan modification 25 underwriting based on applicable loan modification programs; (d) failed to provide 26 adequate staffing, training to staff, or processes for loan modification programs; (e) 27 allowed the Montgomerys to stay in trial modifications for excessive periods of time; (f)

1 failed to respond to inquiries from the Montgomerys; (g) provided “false or misleading 2 information” while referring their loan to foreclosure or initiating foreclosure during the 3 loan modification process; (h) represented that loss mitigation programs would provide 4 relief from foreclosure, which was a misrepresentation, and failed to provide information 5 regarding loss mitigation services, including loan modifications of full principal and 6 interest; (i) advised that the Montgomerys must be at least 60 days delinquent in loan 7 payments to qualify for a loan modification, which was false; and (j) represented that 8 loan modification applications would be handled promptly, but delayed the loan 9 modification for over three years. Id. ¶¶ 5.7-5.12.<sup>4</sup>

10 (6) With respect to plaintiffs’ claim for a violation of the CPA regarding 11 foreclosure processing, plaintiffs claim that defendants (a) failed to properly identify the 12 foreclosing party; (b) charged improper fees; (c) prepared, executed and filed various 13 “false and misleading” documents and affidavits that either lacked personal knowledge or 14 were not properly notarized with the bankruptcy court; and (d) “inappropriately dual-15 track[ed] foreclosure and loan modification” processes. Id. ¶ 5.19.

16 (7) With respect to plaintiffs’ claim for violation of the CPA regarding loan 17 origination, plaintiffs claim that defendants violated their own underwriting requirements, 18 violated the Federal Housing Administration (“FHA”) regulations, violated the 19 requirements of the Direct Endorsement Lenders (“DE Lenders”) certifications, and 20 concealed those violations. Id. ¶¶ 5.24, 5.29.

21 (8) On February 28, 2013, the trustee of the Montgomerys’ estate entered into 22 an Asset Purchase Agreement to sell the Yarrow Point property to plaintiff Flynn. Id. ¶ 23

24
 25 <sup>4</sup> Plaintiffs appear to allege that defendants’ conduct alleged in ¶ 5.12 occurred in 26 connection with the origination and servicing of the loan as well. Dkt. # 4 (Am. Compl.) ¶ 5.13.
 27 It is unclear to the court how any of these allegations apply to plaintiffs claims concerning loan origination where all of these allegations concern loan modification and foreclosure processing allegations, which necessarily occurred after the loan originated.

1 2.2, Ex. 1. Pursuant to that agreement, Flynn acquired all of the Montgomerys' interest 2 in the Yarrow Point property together with any rights or claims for damages against the 3 lender, servicer, and assignees that hold an encumbrance on the property. Id. at 40 (Ex. 1 4 to Am. Compl. at 6 ¶ 14.h). On April 4, 2013, the trustee executed a quit claim deed that 5 transferred title to the property to plaintiff Flynn. Dkt. # 16-1 at 59 (Ex. D to McCormick 6 Decl.).

7 When considering a motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim under Federal 8 Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(6), "the court is to take all well-pleaded factual allegations 9 as true and to draw all reasonable inferences therefrom in favor of the plaintiff." Wyler 10 Summit P'ship v. Turner Broadcasting Sys., Inc., 135 F.3d 658, 663 (9th Cir. 1998).
 11 However, the complaint must indicate more than mere speculation of a right to relief.
 12 Bell Atl. Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 555 (2007). "[F]or a complaint to survive a 13 motion to dismiss, the non-conclusory 'factual content,' and reasonable inferences from 14 that content, must be plausibly suggestive of a claim entitling the plaintiff to relief." 15 Moss v. U.S. Secret Service, 572 F.3d 962, 969 (9th Cir. 2009). "Threadbare recitals of 16 the elements of a cause of action, supported by mere conclusory statements, do not 17 suffice. Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 129 S.Ct. 1937, 1949 (2009). Additionally, the 18 court is not required to accept as true conclusory allegations that are contradicted by 19 documents referred to in the complaint. Steckman v. Hart Brewing, Inc., 143 F.3d 1293, 20 1295 (9th Cir. 1998). Dismissal can be based on the lack of a cognizable legal theory or 21 the absence of sufficient facts alleged under a cognizable legal theory. Balistreri v.
 22 Pacifica Police Dep't, 901 F.2d 696, 699 (9th Cir. 1990). If the court dismisses the 23 complaint or portions thereof, it must consider whether to grant leave to amend. Lopez v.
 24 Smith, 203 F.3d 1122, 1130 (9th Cir. 2000).

1     A. CPA

2         To prevail on a CPA action, the plaintiff must prove an (1) unfair or deceptive act 3 or practice, (2) occurring in trade or commerce, (3) that impacts the public interest, (4) 4 that injures plaintiff in her business or property, and (5) causation. Klem v. Wn. Mut.
 5 Bank, 176 Wn. 2d 771, 782, 295 P.3d 1179, 1185 (Wn. 2013) (en banc). A claim under 6 the CPA “may be predicated on a per se violation of statute, an act or practice that has the 7 capacity to deceive substantial portions of the public, or an unfair or deceptive act or 8 practice not regulated by statute but in violation of public interest.” Id. at 1187.

9         Defendants argue that plaintiffs do not allege an unfair or deceptive act or practice, 10 an impact on public interest, or injury to business or property. Dkt. # 15 at 8-14.
 11 Plaintiffs appear to argue that the unfair or deceptive acts or practices alleged in the 12 complaint with respect to loan servicing include “failing to apply payments properly, 13 failing to disclosure [sic] third parties, [and] apply[ing] excessive fees.”<sup>5</sup> Dkt. # 19 at 5; 14 Dkt. # 4 (Am. compl.) ¶ 5.5. Plaintiffs also argue that they have adequately plead unfair 15 or deceptive acts with respect to loan modification by alleging that defendants made 16 material misrepresentations that plaintiffs’ loan documents were lost, provided false or 17 misleading information while referring the loan to foreclosure, or falsely advised 18 plaintiffs that they needed to be 60 days delinquent to qualify for loan modification. Dkt.
 19 # 19 at 5-6; Dkt. # 4 (Am. Compl.) ¶ 5.12. With respect to foreclosure processing, 20 plaintiffs argue that defendants’ conduct included identifying the wrong foreclosing 21 party, robosigning, filing affidavits not conforming with applicable law, and 22 misrepresenting the identity, office or legal status of the affiant executing the foreclosure 23 documents, which are per se violations of the CPA. Dkt. # 19 at 6; Dkt. # 4 (Am.
 24 Compl.) ¶ 5.19. With respect to loan origination, plaintiffs argue that they adequately 25 alleged that the Montgomery loan violated FHA underwriting standards, violated DE

26
 27         <sup>5</sup> Plaintiffs have not alleged a failure to disclose third parties in their complaint.

1 Lender requirements, and that defendants used their participation as a DE Lender to 2 conceal systemic violations and failed to comply with FHA mandated quality control 3 requirements. Id.; Dkt. # 4 (Am. Compl.) ¶¶ 5.29-5.30, 5.37-5.44.

4 All of these allegations are identical to those alleged in the District of Columbia 5 case. United States v. Bank of America Corp., Case No. 12-361-RMC, District of 6 Columbia, Dkt. # 1 at ¶¶ 47-89. The court cannot discern from the complaint the factual 7 basis for these allegations and whether they are specific to the Montgomerys or Flynn, or 8 to which defendants the allegations apply.

9 Accordingly, the court GRANTS defendants' motion to dismiss plaintiffs' CPA 10 claims.

11 B. False Claims Act and FIRREA

12 Plaintiffs have offered no opposition to defendants' arguments that their claims for 13 FIRREA and False Claims Act should be dismissed. Accordingly, the court grants 14 defendants' motion to dismiss these claims. See Local Rule W.D. Wash. CR 7(b)(2) ("If 15 a party fails to file papers in opposition to a motion, such failure may be considered by 16 the court as an admission that the motion has merit.").

17 C. RICO

18 RICO provides a private cause of action for any person injured in his business or 19 property by reason of a violation of RICO's criminal provisions, 18 U.S.C. § 1962. 18 20 U.S.C. § 1964. Section 1962(c), which plaintiffs invoke here, makes it "unlawful for any 21 person employed by or associated with any enterprise engaged in, or the activities of 22 which affect interstate . . . commerce, to conduct or participate, directly or indirectly, in 23 the conduct of such enterprise's affairs through a pattern of racketeering activity." 18 24 U.S.C. § 1962. "[R]acketeering activity" is defined to include a long list of state and 25 federal crimes. To prove a pattern of racketeering, plaintiffs must allege at least two 26 predicate offenses. Clark v. Time Warner Cable, 523 F.3d 1110, 1116 (9th Cir. 2008).

1 Plaintiffs argue that the complaint “alleges at least two specific predicate acts 2 carried out by the enterprise through the misuse of the bankruptcy system[,] and that “the 3 scheme sought to obtain inappropriate relief and further conceal the BOA Defendants’ 4 illegal conduct, as a DE Lender and underwriting, from Plaintiffs by misusing the 5 bankruptcy system.” Dkt. # 19 at 12. Based on plaintiffs’ argument, it is unclear to the 6 court what they allege as the predicate acts. Although the complaint mentions wire and 7 bankruptcy fraud (Dkt. # 4 ¶ 11.6), any allegations of fraud must be plead under the 8 heightened Rule 9(b) standard, which plaintiffs have failed to do.

9 The court finds that plaintiffs have not alleged two predicate acts.

10 D. Tortious Infliction of Emotional Distress

11 The tort of outrage requires (1) extreme and outrageous conduct, (2) intentional or 12 reckless infliction of emotional distress, and (3) actual result to plaintiff of severe 13 emotional distress. Kloepfel v. Bokor, 149 Wn. 2d 192, 195 (2003). The tort of outrage 14 does not extend to mere insults, indignities, threats, annoyances, petty oppressions, or 15 other trivialities. Id. at 196.

16 Plaintiffs argue that the conduct of defendants “in numerous transactions was 17 driven by nothing other than pure greed in knowing disregard of the interests of either 18 borrowers or the investors to whom the loans would be sold, in violation of numerous 19 regulations, leading to numerous lawsuits by the federal government, which conduct 20 came close to causing another great depression and caused a huge loss of equity in 21 hundreds of thousands of American homeowners was the same conduct inflicted on the 22 Montgomerys.” Dkt. # 19 at 15. As stated above, the court cannot discern from 23 plaintiffs’ conclusory allegations the factual basis of plaintiffs’ outrage claim, or which 24 allegations apply to the Montgomerys since the vast majority of the complaint is nearly 25 identical to the District of Columbia complaint.

26 Accordingly, the court grants defendants’ motion to dismiss the outrage claim.
 27

1      E. Conclusion

2                  For all the foregoing reasons, the court GRANTS defendants' motion to dismiss.
4 Dkt. # 15. The court finds that the reasoning in this order applies equally to all 5 defendants in this matter. Accordingly, the court DISMISSES plaintiffs' complaint in its 6 entirety. The court will allow plaintiffs leave to amend within 14 days of this order. The 7 court expects plaintiffs to allege facts sufficient to demonstrate a plausible theory of 8 liability against each defendant named in the amended complaint, and plaintiffs should 9 identify by name the defendants against whom each cause of action is asserted.
10 Plaintiffs' piggy-back approach to the District of Columbia case without allegations 11 specific to plaintiffs in this case is woefully insufficient for what this court expects to 12 satisfy the pleading requirements.
